Lauren Hume, Samantha, and Tanya - your photos and thoughts are. Our Tanya, you asked whether to include the photo of the bear. I'm considering to do so. I think it would be a great way to start the conversation.
I had to edit and expand the first post to make them more consistent in length but some were short while others were long. Please have a look and let me know if you think it's good.

Sounds Bourgeoisfriends. Be there! I have to find a website on checklist (same is the force to highlight that I haven't done it yet) - I'm sure there's a website that has a checklist for this. Also, I'm sure there's a website that has a checklist for women-owned businesses. Bourgeoisfriends. Thanks to Kate and Jen and the BOARD!!!

I'll send the group the copy of Articles soon

Expense wise- I don't mind covering everything and then recouping half once we have a sent in acct. It was $75 for the articles, $35 for the EIN, $35 for the 990 EZ, $35 for the 1023 EZ, $35 for the 990 EZ, $35 for the 990 EZ. I'm currently on having more than $5k professional fee over it yet, but the filing is pretty, so I'm leaning towards $600, but hopefully CYNBHD group can give insight.

I'll start a new chime or a new account and put receipts there

CTA- while we wait for federal tax exempt status, it would also be wise encourage those from other countries to get their own nonprofit to apply for their fundraising efforts.

Hi everyone, just want to keep you updated on where we are in the process. I'm very close to submitting for the 501c3 and I'm waiting on the last piece of information. I don't expect that to take too long.
— Once I have that, I'll submit the application and then we'll wait for the IRS to review it.
— once Virginia approves the articles of incorporation, We would then have an inaugural board meeting to either ratify the bylaws we have drafted or make changes to them as needed.
— then we can move on to the hurdle of applying for federal tax exemption
— approval can take 6 months- a year. During that time we can really focus on the website, networking, fundraising and preparing for our first grant.

I am not sure if it's wise to fundraise before we become tax exempt
